In the second race, at five furiongs, Knowledge's speed and Tristan Shandy's ability to plough through heavy going should prove strong factors. Sambo is in with two entries which favor soft going and who like the route. day she fooks best. Dawson and Strater should be next in order. Echodale should win once more in the skith, provided he starts. On a soft track, likely to prevail to-day, he seems much the best. Sld Sliver tooks next best.

The condition of the track to-day is to be figured with as much allowance as the rather out-up fields in six races at the Union truck. What a horse did weeks ago, at some other track under other conditions, and his first out here, makes a diagnosis of the situation a bit difficult.

There is no particular feature race to-day. The short field in the fourth, with Paul Whaley, probably the best sprinter at the track, naturally commends special attention. Paul Whaley has nothing to bear except Tempt The latter is a mudder, and won at the Fair Grounds recently. Brotherhood ran a good race the other day, but does not class with Whaley and Palm Reader looks best in the first race, although he will carry top weight, 113 pounds. He ran second to Martin's at the Fair Grounds recently. He appears so much the best that he should appeal to the speculator. St. Noel put up a poor race Saturday, but may do better to-day. It will likely be between Lord Hermence and Lillianette for show moner. Lord Hermence has a chance if he is in form, it is six months since he had a race.

Yo San has been cutting up at the post and is on the schooling list. She ran a number of good races at Hot Springs, but does not seen to be at herself here. Jim Ferrin should win the second race. The race is five and one-hald furiougs and with fifteen pounds more weight, he beat a much better field yesterday. Gates's form is so untrue that no one can place him. This, justifies a prediction that Brbe will win. Hegira will likely be scratched, and in that event Aegin, at the distance, looks good to show. If her price is attractive it may not be a bad bet to play her across the board.

The fifth race will be between Bearhunter and Golden Flower. The former is due to win. Golden Flower picks up sixteen pounds over her last out, while Bearhunter drops a few pounds and has been showing speed and improvement in her racing. As is usual in such long-drawn-out games, each side had opportunities to win In the ninth inning the Browns would have scored the much-desired winning run, but for a corking stop by O'Leary. At this stage of the game J. Burkett's handsome person was adorning the third Jones pumped a hot grounder equarely over second. O'Leary butted in near the second cushion, grabbed the ball and tossed Jones out at first amid the groans of the fanatics. AND THEN IT RAINED.

Even the clouds wept at this untimely act of Mr. O'Leary's. Of course J. Pluvius had a choice brew of aqua on tap vius had a choice brew of aqua on usp since the fourth inning, but the clouds shed a few extra tears at O'Leary's hardheartedness.

Detroit also had her opportunity to win in the unith. With first and second occupied, Milntyre offered up a weak grounder that forced Barrett at second and ended the inning.

Considering the fact that a drizzling rain poured over the players and field for the last eight innings, the game was remarkably well played and free from errors.

In the matter of misplays each side had two. Heldrick and Hemphill made the errors for St. Louis, but they were of the kind that are bound to happen under such conditions as prevailed yesterday.

Carr and Killian made the bobbles for the visitors, but they were excusable errors. BROWNS OFF IN FRONT. The Browns got away in the lead, a base on balls to Burkett, Heidrick's sacrifice hit and Jones's screaming single brought about this unpleasant result for the Browns.

In the fifth the home guards again took the lead. Killian hit Sudhoff with the ball. Burkett tapped a bunt in front of the plate and in his effort to field Jesse out. Killian fell and tossed the hall wide of first. Sudhoff crossing the plate on the play.

Another turn at the game of seesaw sent the "Tigers" out in front again in the following inning. Barrett, the first man un, singled. McIntyre followed suit. In trying to field Barrett out at third on the play. Heldrick threw the ball too low for Gleason to handle it right and Barrett scored. McIntyre taking third and scoring on Greminger's high fly to Heldrick.

Eggs all round in the seventh. In the eighth Carr's single and Greminger's double gave the "Tigers" another tally.

With two runs to the bad in their half of the eighth the Browns evened matters up when they came to bat. A single by Heldrick, Jones's double and Padden's single netted two runs.

From then until the close of the game neither side scored again.

Chicago, April 24.—St. Louis displayed fine form throughout to-day's game and defeated the Chicago Microbes by the score of 4 to 3 in a game that was full of anxiety. Neither side scored after the fourth inning. Dunieavy showed greater ability in the box and struck out twice as many men as Brown, though the bits were even. Holmes for Chicago allowed five stolen bases, two resulting in runs.

The Cardinals started the ball rolling in balls. Burke was hit by Brown, and forced Shay to second. Barelay then filed out to left field. Barelay did not bat far, nor were there mny errors made, but it seemed an interminable time before the ball got into Catcher Holmes's hands. The Accarthy and Byers stole second. Burks had the audacity to steal home. Two outs followed and Chicago came to the bat. Evers started upon the last of the third by disappointing the fans with an out. Dunleavy became nervous and gave Jones a base on boils. This only increased his ond.

It fell to the lot of Brown to cover himself with glory. With a crack which could be heard in the far-away bleachers he knocked the ball out into center field and Jones and Holmes came in with ease. Brown succeeded in getting as far as second base.

when Stagle knocked the ball to left field, bringing Brown home, the fans hugged each other for joy. Then Stagle attempted to steal second base, but falled.

Barclay opened the fourth inning with a hit to left field and got to second on a fielder's choice. After Byers's out, Dunleavy made a long hit to left field, Barclay was just able to cross home on the and to many spectators it looked as though Holmes put him out.

No more runs were scored after the fourth inming. After the Microbes succeeded in putting out three of the Cardinais in succession it looked as if the Chicago leaguers had regained their form, and the crowd began to shout encouragement, but Casey proved a damper to the situation by striking out with the bases full and two men out. At no time after that had Chicago a possible show to win the game.
